"Expand your professional network at Life of Mine"

AusIMM in collaboration with The University of Queensland's Sustainable Minerals Institute's Centre for Water in the Minerals Industry (CWiMI) are pleased to welcome you back to the highly successful Life of Mine Conference 2023.

In 2021, the Conference welcomed a record number of attendees from over 15 countries and is set to bring a wider, global audience in 2023. Join professionals, researchers, government and academia from a diverse range of sectors as we explore the full life cycle of a mine, from exploration to rehabilitation.

This outstanding technical conference will address current and future challenges impacting the mining value chain and will present leading examples of sustainability in mining, and showcase the latest innovations from leading exhibitors.
