"Creating resilient and responsible Mineral Value Chains in Africa, Western and Central Asia"
The FMF – Future Minerals Forum – is one of the world’s largest gatherings of senior government and industry representatives, dedicated to creating resilient and responsible mineral value chains in the super regions of Africa, Western and Central Asia.

Located at the crossroads of Africa and Asia, and convened by the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the Future Minerals Forum offers a unique opportunity to tap into the vast potential of these rapidly growing regions and highlights the areas of growth for experts in the mineral value chain.
